When you visit our office for that routine hygiene appointment, our team does a lot more than just probe for cavities. In addition to caring for your teeth, we're giving you the next best thing to a complete physical examination. If it's been a while since you've seen your family physician, it just could prove a lifesaver!

How's that possible? Your mouth is a unique meeting place of teeth, skin, muscle, fluids, and germs. It gives us the chance to look inside your body without using a knife. Over forty serious diseases, including bulimia, tumors, and AIDS, can be detected in the mouth. The texture, color, and condition of your tongue and gums can be evidence of high blood pressure or osteoporosis.

That's why we encourage you to make at least two dental appointments every year, especially if you don't get annual physical examinations.

We're here to make sure your teeth stay in great shape. Along with the rest of your body.

You've worked hard to earn that dental insurance. Don't waste it! Beat that January deductible by scheduling unfinished treatment today!

No Dental Problem Ever Cured Itself When you wait too long, a lot can happen.

- Gum problems don't hurt at first, so you may not even know disease is lurking.
- Old fillings can leak where filling and tooth meet, inviting decay.
- Tooth fractures are often invisible and may require a root canal. By putting it off, you may lose your tooth.

- If you're missing a tooth, your neighboring teeth will grow disrupted and loose.
- Topical fluorides and sealants are a good idea for children and adults to prevent decay.
- It may sound cliché but it's true—an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
